

Becoming An Aztec Priest

A Guide On
How To Sacrifice

Jordan Thompson

Congratulations on becoming an Aztec priest! This means you get great power and responsibility. You even need to decide on babies names and say if it is safe or not to go on a journey. The Aztec Empire depends on you! If warriors don't get sacrificed, the sun won't rise and the crops won't grow. Everyone will die if you don't make sacrifices. You have got to do it properly because our god Huitzilopochtli needs strong human hearts and in return he keeps us safe.

You will need:-

- A sharp flint knife
- A sacrificial stone
- A sacrificial bowl
- A captured warrior
- A great temple

HOW TO SACRIFICE YOUR WARRIOR

- First, you need to pierce yourself with a cactus spike.
- Secondly, feed your blood to the ground.
- Next, pray to the great god Huitzilopochtli.
- Afterwards, go to the top of the Great Temple.
- After that, sharpen your flint knife, while waiting for the warrior to climb the steps of the Great Temple.

- Hold the warrior down on the sacrificial stone.
- Then bring the flint knife down through the warrior's chest.
- Now, rip his heart out of his chest and throw it into the sacrificial bowl.
- Throw the warrior down the steps of the temple to be eaten.
- Finally, wait for the sun to rise.

Now that you have read this, you can perform your daily sacrifices correctly.
