

Bacon Times

Wolfs end up in West Ham jail!

Wirely (the big bad wolf) jailed for attempted murder times 3!

A couple of days ago in West Ham, Pork, ham and Bacon (better known as the black Pudding brothers) were nearly murdered by Wirely the Big Bad wolf (WBB.) Wirely was sentenced to Black Pudding Jail for life, for attempted murder of three helpless innocent pigs. Wirely will be sharing a room with baby-stealing Rumpelstiltskin. Rumours say he is not happy and would rather share a room with his idol The Wicked Witch.

To begin with, Pork was building a luxurious thatched twig cottage, while ham was putting together a snugly straw chalet. Bacon was sensibly seen structuring a stone mansion. Pork began playing his flute and singing merrily, playing their instruments;

Unaware of the danger Bacon Ham and Pork

however their brother Bacon said that he had no time to play games and have fun. Suddenly Wirely crept up on them licking his lips surprisingly they ran to the safety of their homes.

Pork heard a ferocious knock on the straw door. "Little pig little pig let me come in! Or I'll huff and puff and blow your house in!"

Wirely yelled.

"Not on the hairs of my chinny chin!"

Screamed Pork. Wirely had no choice but to blow down the straw chalet. He took a deep breath and blew the snugly house down. When the house fell Wirely got caught up in all the straw which gave Pork extra time to get to Ham's terrific twig house. Just minutes later, Wirely reached Ham's twigs masterpiece. Again Wirely repeated his catchy phrase. A witness, who does not wish to be named, said he heard Wirely say that pigs are clever for him, and then went away. Later Wirely came back and pretended to be an old helpless sheep. However Pork and Ham realised that it was Wirely.

"Not on the hairs of my chinny chin chin, you can't fool us in that old sheep skin!" They left him no choice and he blew down the terrific thatched masterpiece! In all the fuss Pork and Ham's tails got grabbed by sharp claws - Wirely's claws. They ran in opposite directions, causing Wirely to crash into a tree.

This gave them a chance to sharply escape to Bacon's house.

Bacon, who was aware of the wolf and the danger it brought. He had the door open ready for Ham and Pork to come into his brilliant brick mansion. At last when Wirely caught up he repeated his catchphrase, yet again the pigs replied "Not on the hairs of my chinny chin chin!" So, Wirely began to blow down the house. To his surprise he could not blow the house down. Cinderella kindly told us that she that she saw Wirely began to turn purple and then blue and shockingly to her surprise his trousers burst! A few moments later, Wirely came back dressed up as a poor brush seller. Bacon cleverly locked the door and hit Wirely on the head with the brush he was trying to sell.

Bacon stared out the window to see a hairy wolf climbing up the chimney; quickly he began to pour boiling water into the steaming cauldron. When at last Wirely reached the top of the mansion he shot down the chimney and shot back up with a severely burnt bottom!

Finally when Wirely recovers from a burnt bum he will go to Black Pudding Jail for life. We managed to get an interview with Bacon, the brother saver, he told us "I am shocked that Wirely tried to kill us all I don't know what I do without my brothers." Pigs are advised to tighten up security and don't open the door unless you know who it is! Also pigs are advised to use bricks and stones when building houses, and definitely don't use twigs or straw. All pigs survived and are very grateful to their brother.